CARDINALS WIN SIXTH CONTEST; COUNT IS TIED

Manager Hornsby Selects Alexander To Pitch For St. Louis In All Important Sixth Game and Huggins Sends In Shawkey For New York.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees 10 to 2 here today in the sixth game of the world series, tying the series at three games each and necessitating a seventh game here tomorrow.

The Cardinals drove Shawkey from the mound and also pounded Shocker, who succeeded him, in the seventh. Alexander was effective throughout.

Lester Bell, equalled the world series record for runs driven in in one world series game—four. He scored two in the first inning with a single and two in the seventh with a home run in the left field stands.

Alexander held the Yankees to eight hits, issued two passes and struck out six. The Cardinals reached Shawkey, Shocker and Thomas, who finished the game for a total of thirteen safeties.

Babe Ruth failed to get the ball out of the infield, drawing one pass and being retired on his other three appearances at bat on infield rollers.

60,000 In Stands.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—New York's thousands trooped out to Yankee stadium this afternoon to see the Yankees come to grips with the Red Birds in the sixth fray of the world's series. Some 60,000 enthusiastic fans filled the broad reaches of the vast concrete and wooden bowl by game time.

The day was bright and fair, but an Arctic wind swept across the playing field, giving an autumn setting to the contest. The fans brought their overcoats, to keep out the chilling blasts, while some of the players wore sweaters before play began.

Fielders Cautioned.

Managers cautioned their outfielders to study the wind currents to provide against wind-blown flies as the wind current ran across the field from home plate to right in the direction of the sector where Babe Ruth plants his home runs.

"Don't need any wind," said the Babe, "if I can get hold of one."

The playing field was lightning fast, the wind and sun of the last few days drying out all moisture.

Lines to the unreserved sections began forming near midnight and at 10 o'clock when the gates swung open seven thousand persons were on hand. The crowd came slowly and near noon great open spaces yawned in the bleachers.

Alexander for the Cards, and Shawkey for the Yanks, were the early pitching choices of the managers.

Alexander In Box.

Two veterans, Alexander for the Cardinals, and Shawkey for the Yanks, went in to pitch today.

A victory for New York meant the championship of the world, while by winning, the Cardinals would prolong the series and force the deciding game tomorrow.

As the game got under way there were a few vacant seats. Approximately 50,000 saw the contest.

It was Shawkey's first start of the series.

HUSKER TEAM MEETS TIGERS

Cornhuskers Battle Last Year's Missouri Valley Champions In Important Contest of 1926 Gridiron Campaign.

Cornhusker and Tiger gridmen squared off against each other in the Memorial stadium at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Well-drilled aggregations represented both schools, and elimination from the Missouri Valley contest was forecast for the eleven which should lose the game.

Before the game a delegation of several hundred South Omaha boosters, here on their annual pilgrimage, paraded around the field and marched to their special section in the west stand.

The Husker squad was on the field about a half-hour early, going through its paces. The sod was a trifle soggy from the morning rain.

CONSPIRACY CASE NOW IN JURY'S HANDS

Decision As To Whether Former Attorney General and Thomas W. Miller Defrauded Government of Best Service Deliberated By Federal Court Jurors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. — (By the Associated Press.)—Decision as to whether Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, office holders under President Harding, conspired to defraud the government of their best services lay with a Federal court jury today.

The trial, which lasted five weeks, reached its final phase last night when Judge Julian W. Mack charged the jury. The twelve men retired to deliberate, but as midnight approached without a decision they were sent under guard to a hotel for the night, to resume deliberations at 10:30 this morning.

Before leaving the court the jurors called for documentary evidence to be delivered to them this morning. Attorneys said it would take several hours to read the documents.

Accused of Bribe Taking.

Daugherty, formerly attorney general, and Miller, formerly alien property custodian, are accused of sharing in a $441,000 bribe to approve a $7,000,000 alien claim against the government in 1921. A bribery charge is outlawed by the statute of limitations and they were indicted in May with John T. King, who died a week afterward, for conspiracy to defraud the government of their best services. The maximum penalty for this offense is two years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine or both.

Federal Attorney Buckner introduced eighty-two witnesses and the defendants six. Nearly 300 documents, including ledgers, hotel registers, transportation vouchers, bank and brokerage records and checks were offered in evidence.

Neither defendant testified. The evidence admittedly was circumstantial.

Bulk of $18,000 Estate Goes To Humane Society

With the exception of a $200 bequest to her adopted daughter, Adelaide Elam Grimm, and $100 to her cousin, Eva Myers, of Omaha, the entire estate of Mrs. Ada B. Elam is left to the Lancaster County Humane Society for the purchase of a tract of land and the erection of a suitable building on it for the care and protection of dumb animals.

The will was filed for probate in County court Saturday. It is estimated that the estate will amount to about $18,000. The terms of the will provide the residue of the estate, after funeral expenses and the specific bequests have been taken care of, shall go to the Humane Society "for the purpose of buying a tract of land with plenty of shade so that dumb animals may have a proper place while confined. The tract of land so purchased to be entirely surrounded by a suitable wire enclosure.

"That the Humane Society shall erect on said tract of land so purchased a suitable building to shelter dumb animals in cold and inclement weather, building to be sanitary and heated."

It is provided that in the event the estate is not of sufficient size to carry out these proposals it shall be placed at interest and allowed to accumulate until it is large enough.

The will was made April 28, 1924.

Mrs. Elam was the widow of John A. Elam, well known cafe proprietor who died Jan. 23, 1924.

The First Trust company of Lincoln, is named executor.

WRIGHT NEVER TO RETURN TO U. S.

Attorney Says Architect Not to Come Back to America While Alive.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Levi H Bancroft, Milwaukee attorney, told the Associated Press Friday that Frank Lloyd Wright, Spring Green, Wis. architect, sought as a fugitive from justice, has fled from the United States never to return while alive.

NICHOLS SPEAKS TO REALTORS AT FRIDAY BANQUET

Mark W. Woods Gives Address On "Farm Relief" At Evening Session.

The Friday evening banquet and program marked the climax of the second session of the Nebraska Realtors convention being held in Lincoln this week. Two-hundred and twenty-five real estate men from all over the state attended the banquet at the Lincoln hotel. Besides a musical program, J. C. Nichols of Kansas City, Governor McMullen and Mark W. Woods spoke.

"The Development of the Missouri River," was the topic of the address by Mr. Nichols. Before discussing the need of waterway development, he gave a short talk on city planning He praised Lincoln as a city for the fine type of planning that has been laid out, for the excellent way the traffic is handled, and for the fine business and residential sections

Mr. Nichols is an advocate of city zoning and said that a primary duty of the realtor was to sell this idea to his constituents and customers. "In the smaller cities of the state," Mr. Nichols declared, "a wonderful opportunity for city planning and zoning is presented. Before these small cities become large and flourishing, a definite form of planning and zoning should be molded."

Favors Uniform Buildings.

In concluding his preliminary talk about city planning the speaker said. "We must do away with large office buildings stretching ten or twelve stories in the air. With these, the street traffic becomes greatly congested The business parts of cities must be spread over wide tracts of land. The streets should be laid in an attractive way and buildings should be, in some measure, uniform throughout the business district.

"Every city has a personality. Every city either impresses a visitor in a good or in a bad way For some reason, Lincoln has a most attractive appeal. It is a beautiful city and one in which its citizens and all Nebraska has ample reason to be proud."

In speaking of the Missouri river, Mr. Nicholas said that it was the longest river in the world, and that more water flows through it than any other North American stream. He told how the business men of Kansas City and other points on the river, are trying to provide for a development of this stream.

Through figures and statistics, Mr. Nichols showed how greatly river traffic would benefit everyone in the middle west, particularly the farmer.

"As long as the vast waterway system in the United States remains undeveloped, the farmer in this country will remain abused and downtrodden. What we need today, is the use of the Missouri as a great transportation channel, with feeding rivers merging into it throughout the central west and south. In this way, the farmer has access to the shipping interests of the Great Lakes and the Panama canal," Mr. Nichols said.

Tells of Nebraska.

Governor McMullen in his talk on "Nebraska" told of the resources and possibilities of the state He pointed out that Nebraska was one of two states without any bonded indebtedness and also that this state had the lowest running per capita expense of any, at 22 cents, the next exceeding two dollars. He also said that the realtors should insist upon agricultural relief and emphatically stated that, "now is the time to buy Nebraska land." It will never be any cheaper, the governor thinks, and citizens should buy it and develop it at once.

The governor continued: "Nebraska should be an appropriate place for realtors' activities. Our chief wealth producing agency is the soil. Land is our stock in trade. It is our most valuable asset. Our progress as a state has been made solely through the instrumentality of land, land without timber above or mineral beneath

"A remarkable transformation ahs taken place in the brief space of a lifetime. Who could have believed that 75 years ago, the territory that the pioneers dreaded to cross on their way to the northwest, would become one of the most fertile and productive spots in the world? Who could have dreamed that the desert land that lay at the foot of the Rockies would one day blossom like the rose and produce crops unsurpassed even by the delta of the Nile?"

Equality for the Farmer.

"Farm Relief" was the subject of the address by Mark W. Woods. In an emphatic statement, he declared, "Irregardless of politics, whether we are democrats or republicans, the unanimous citizen body of Nebraska, of the middle west and the south, must hang together and shout as their one long cry, equality for the farmer." He said that the question of farm relief is not a political question, but a problem that must be solved by the united support of all agricultural interests in the country.

"The farmer," Mr. Woods said, "is working under a great handicap. He is getting only 85% of the dollar that is earned by the laborer. He cannot operate at a 15% discount. The increase on farm mortgage debt between 1920 and 1925 was 33%. Since 1910, land has gone down 16% in sale value. It is time that the farmer demands equal rights."

He told of the depressing conditions of agriculture all over the world and described the peasants of France, Russia and other European nations, asserting that the farmers of the United States should never be subjected to that kind of treatment.

At the opening of the program a dance novelty was presented by Misses Dorothy McKenzie, Virginia Richardson and Elizabeth Gilbertson with Irene Gaudreau at the piano. The Realtors quartet from the men joined in assembly singing.

The toastmaster of the evening was Wilson E. Graham of Omaha and R. E. Harrington of Lincoln, president of the local realtors, acted as master of ceremonies. Homer T. Brown, president of the state organization, A. H. Forke, secretary-treasurer, Ireaneus Shuler, vice-president, Byron Hastings, director, Harvey Rathbone, national vice-president, and Lawrence F. Farrell were all introduced by Mr. Harrington.

BATTLE AGAINST THE CORN BORER

Conference Held at Chicago; Federal Aid Will Be Asked.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—An army of bugs marching relentlessly west and leaving in its wake devastated vegetation has aroused agricultural leaders of the country and Friday first defense lines were formed.

A little ugly brown worm, the European corn borer, which lives through the winter within corn stalks, corn cobs and other crop remains, after having wrought haovc during the summer, was the cause of a conference here of the International Corn Borer committee. Plans for financing a fight against the borer and closer co-operation between state and government agents were arranged.

Advancing at the rate of about twenty-five miles a year toward Indiana, Illinois and other big corn producing states, the borer has covered thoroughly Michigan, Ohio and parts of New York, Pennsylvania and the New England states.

An appropriation of $2,000,000 is to be asked of the federal government and it is expected $1,000,000 more will be obtained from the individual states

The Young Men's Christian association, when it finishes hearing from union labor men throughout the country, will perhaps be less young and more Christian.

It forbade a representative of union labor to speak in a Y. M. C. A. building because it did not want "controversy"—so it said.

The sort of Christianity that will not hear the argument of workmen, but listens on hands and knees to any kind of talk by a man with a hundred millions, hasn't much Christianity about it.

Welcome to Queen Marie of Rumania. She will not bring any short dresses. Thank heaven, she will set good example to some of our foolish women who think there is something beautiful about offensively conspicuous knees, fat, thin, blunt or sharp. There isn't.

Dr. Irving Fischer, wise professor of Yale, tells you to remember that the dollar today is worth 68 cents, as compared with its value before the war. So, "you mustn't accept the dollar at its face value." Many, however, are willing to accept it, if they can get it.

The same thing was said private-months ago by Clarence Dillon, who deals in dollars as others deal in hats, shoes or wheat. Money is the cheapest thing in the world today, and, therefore, as Weber and Fields used to say, "Go and get it."

British moving picture men want their government to compel the British public to use 12½ per cent of British made films, whether they like them or not. American pictures monopolize the European market.

It was said of Barnum's white elephant that he would drink everything in the world, except English coffee. The reason was, that he didn't like it. Perhaps that is why the British won't go to see British moving pictures.

Canon Newson, vicar of Newcastle-on-Tyne, says "science can be reconciled to religious belief and actually helps it."

The vicar says the old terrible thought that "the world might, after all, be nothing but a vast with no room for God or soul," has died out.

And now the scientific teaching of biology, which is the science of life, actually helps religion

That's excellent news! Whatever helps religion helps the world. As for science, it goes along and does very well, anyhow. It means simply investigating and reporting facts And nothing on earth can interfere with a fact—except a more powerful fact.

Dr. Pettit, astronomer on Mount Wilson, says the ultraviolet rays of the sun will be more numerous in 1927 than ordinarily. Stay out in the sunlight, it cures disease, increases the number of red corpuscles in the blood But don't expose your bare head to brilliant sunlight. Wear a hat, preferably lined with black or dark green. If you take sun baths start with three minutes exposure, then very gradually increase.

SMITH HEARING SET FOR OCT. 14

Judge Chappell Disqualifies Himself In Assault and Battery Case.

Defendant in an assault and battery case which grew out of a discussion of professional ethics, Dr Arthur L. Smith late Friday afternoon pleaded not guilty and was released on his attorney's promise to furnish $500 bond Saturday morning.

Hearing of the case was set for 9 o'clock October 14.

Dr. A. D. Munger, complaining witness in the case alleges that Smith assaulted him. He declared Friday that an argument in a meeting of the Lancaster County Medical society was the basis for the altercation.

Municipal Judge Chappell, before whom Smith was arraigned disqualified himself from hearing the case

"Dr. Munger has been my family physician for a long time, and Dr Smith is a personal friend of mine," said the judge. Under those circumstances he did not feel competent to take evidence on the case.

Judge Chappell said he would ask Governor McMullen to appoint a special judge for that hearing

Wife, 19, Given Complete Divorce From Husband, 59

CHICAGO, Oct 9. — (AP) — Cinderella romances and marriages of "December and May" were scored by Judge Walter P. Steffen in court yesterday where the troubles of a 59-year-old gray-haired attorney and his teen-age wife were aired.

Fred Laramie, attorney, and Mrs Marion Frances Laramie, 19, the principals in the court action which was started by the latter, finally adjourned to the court chambers with Judge Steffen and an agreement was reached.

Instead of the separate maintenance sought by the young wife a complete divorce was granted.

"Such marriages are ridiculous, absurd and impossible," the judge said. "A man cannot hope to live happily with a girl thirty or forty years younger than himself"

The couple eloped to Crown Point, Ind., last February, but after seven weeks of married life Mrs. Laramie departed for her mother's home. She charged that Laramie had been ashamed of their marriage, while the husband countered with assertions that she made him get his own breakfast, abused his automobile and went out every night on parties

GREEN ANGERED AT REMARKS OF SHERWOOD EDDY

Delegates Visit Ford's Plant; Disapproval Of Conditions Is Voiced.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, Friday repudiated the remarks of Sherwood Eddy, secretary for Asia of the International Y. M. C. A., before Thursday's session of the federation's convention.

Mr. Eddy "did exactly the opposite of that which he told me he would do," Mr. Green's statement said. "Word was brought me that he wanted to present to us his views of the recent action of the Y. M. C. A. of this city. I am not responsible for whatever Mr. Eddy may have told any delegate or person."

The verbal skirmish between officers of the Detroit board of commerce and the labor convention was continued Friday with a public statement from the commercial organization that "we have no apology to make about any assertions that the American Federation of Labor is un-American and un-patriotic."

Inspect Ford Factory.

The statement was issued by Lewis J. Flint a director of the board of commerce and C. C. McGill, its director of public relations.

Labor officials read the statement without comment.

The afternoon session of the convention was abandoned Friday for an inspection tour of the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Co. More than 300 delegates were conducted through every department of the plant.

Disapproval of the conditions of labor as he found them in the plant was expressed in a formal statement issued Friday night by A J Berres, secretary of the metal trades department of the federation.

The text of his statement follows. "The constant monotony which the men in the Ford plant, which we visited this afternoon, are subject to and added to the tremendous pressure of these men to labor, indicates that within a comparatively years they throw an addition to the human junk heap and their places are taken by newer arrivals So long as new men can be constantly added to the force such a plant can run, but no longer.

Gives Material for Demagogue.

"Instead of tending toward helping these men and making them better Americans this system provides men who cannot help being good material for the radical and the demagogue to work upon."

The storm which broke in convention circles Tuesday with notice that Detroit pulpits would be closed to labor speakers next Sunday, continued to subside Friday Rev. Worth M. Tippy, executive secretary of the social service commission, Federal Council of Churches of Christ of America, announced completion of arrangements for eighteen speakers, six of them delegates in the labor convention, to address congregations Sunday and Monday and a spokesman for the Catholic diocese of Michigan invited delegates to a special service in St Aloysius church Sunday morning at which the Rev. John A Ryan, an officer of the National Catholic Welfare conference will deliver a sermon."

Woll Not Candidate.

Reports that a bloc of delegates had launched a move to replace Mr. Green as president in next week's elections were set at rest Friday night by an official statement from Matthew Woll, a vice president, that he was not a candidate for the presidency

James M Lynch, president of the International Typographical union, similarly announced he was not a candidate for the place of Secretary Frank Morrison.

President Green's expression on the address of Mr Eddy stated the labor president had informed the Y M. C. A. officer when the letter sought the privilege of the floor, that a resolution on the recognition of Russia was already given to the resolutions committee. "It was further stated by me to Mr. Eddy that it was would be most highly improper for me to permit any visitor to our convention to discuss questions which could be discussed in the convention only? Mr. Eddy said to me, 'Oh I see,' and then plainly said, 'That being the case, I will not talk about Russia'

"He assured me he would talk about the Y. M. C. A."

Methodist Report Called Unfair By Vancouver Police

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 9—(AP) —Police Commissioner J. A. Garbitt yesterday took issue with the statements made about Vancouver in the report published Thursday in Washington by the board of temperance, prohibition and morals of the Methodist church.

The report, which the police commissioner characterizes as unfair and inaccurate said: "Newspapers and police officials of British Columbia are given as authorities for statements that commercialized vice floods Vancouver and that there is more drinking and use of narcotics among young boys and girls than ever before."

The commissioner said. "No Vancouver police officer has ever made statements such as those. There has been no time in Vancouver when there were so few complaints about morality conditions as during the last two years.

"There may be more drinking of beer since the beer parlors were opened, but complaints of conditions such as described in the report have not been made."

PERSHING WARNS AGAINST FURTHER ARMY REDUCTION

General Breaks Year of Silence to Advocate Adequate Defense.

Refers to Unusual Condition of Lawlessness In Country At This Time.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 9. — (By the Associated Press)—Gen. John J Pershing broke the silence he had maintained for over a year to publicly sound warning Friday night that the army has been reduced to a point "below which we cannot go without most serious results."

Speaking before the Military Order of the World War, the commander of the American expeditionary force told his one-time soldiers that the world "is not free from jealousy and covetousness" and "that the situation at home now and in the future demands the maintenance of a highly developed nucleus" for national defense

"Only a vociferous minority is opposed to such a program," he asserted, adding:

"There can be no earthly justification for saving a few million dollars a year on the army during peace, if, as a consequence we must spend many billions in an emergency in an attempt to make up deficiencies

Reached Danger Point.

"The difference between an adequate and an inadequate system is not sufficient to warrant the risk. There is a point below which we cannot go without most serious results and we have reached that point"

The general, departing from a discussion of the army, referred to what he described as an "unusual condition of lawlessness" throughout the country.

"It is not to our credit that an unusual condition of lawlessness exists in our country today," he said. "High handed criminals escape the law and go unpunished. Officials elected by the people fail in the enforcement of law."

Citizens Must Ask Change.

"How long this will continue depends entirely on the people themselves. We may as well be warned of our fate unless good citizens rise up and demand a change.

"The busy lives of present day Americans too often absorb their thoughts to the exclusion of that consideration of the obligations of citizenship upon which a safe and sound government under the constitution rests."

The general also appealed to his audience not to forget that "the basis of our govenment is the community" and the citizens "are directly responsible for the manner in which law and order are preserved."

Recruiting Temporarily Stopped.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The army's enlisted strength has fallen today to 110,345 men, 8,405 below the pay strength and 14,655 under the authorized strength.

The reduction was attributed at the war department directly to the recruiting stop order which became effective September 15 and was issued to avoid a heavy threatened deficiency in funds appropriated by congress for pay and subsistence during the current fiscal year.

Reports that the strength had dropped below 110,900 led to a modification of the recruiting order.

Limited recruiting will start Monday and be so regulated as to insure as nearly as possible the 110 900 average until July, which is the end of the fiscal year.

TEN MEN DROWN WHEN TUG SINKS

Boat In French Harbor Is Cut In Two By a Liner.

HAVRE, France, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Ten men of the crew of the French tug Ursus were drowned when the boat sank after having been in collision with the French liner Paris last midnight.

The Ursus was aiding the liner to dock on its arrival from New York. It had guided the steamship into the tidal basin and thrown a mooring line aboard. The men on the Paris missed the line and also a second one. In order to throw a third line the tug passed across the bow of the steamer. The Paris still was under way and struck the Ursus and cut the tug boat in two. The Ursus sank immediately.

Five of the crew of the tug boat were saved, but no trace of the others on board was found after she sank.

Reduce Period For Testing Of Cholera Serum

Reduction of the government hog serum inspection period from 11 to 22 days has been ordered by the secretary of agriculture temporarily, thus releasing 34,000,000 cubic centimeters of hog serum for immediate use.

Former Governor Samuel McKelvie was advised by telegram of this fact yesterday, after he had sent the following wire to the department:

"On account of an acute shortage of hog cholera serum and the prevalence of the disease, it seems highly important that the government test period should be shortened."

(Special to The Star.)

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 9.—While George Folliott, owner, and Joe Fangmann, mechanic, were at work repairing a car in the rear of the Platte Center garage about 9:30 at night thieves entered the office in front of the building and carried away a $500 cash register, together with its contents. Included in the haul were $40 in cash and checks and $100 in charge slips.

A few moments before the theft a stranger wearing a sailor's uniform had entered the garage and bought a minor repair part for a Chevrolet car. It is believed he was a member of the party and was getting his bearings for the theft which was committed as soon as Folliott had returned to the rear of the garage after making the sale.

Mystery Man In Dodge County Is Still Uncaptured

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Oct. 9.—A tall dark man, wearing a black suit of clothes, has caused much consternation lately in the Fairview neighborhood south of Dodge. Daytime he has alarmed the school children and the school teacher. At night he has frightened automobilists. Search has failed to reveal him.

Yesterday Fred Spearworth called Sheriff W. A. Johnson to hasten to the vicinity, declaring that the "bobbing mystery man" had been cornered by a posse in a cornfield. Johnson responded, taking two deputies along, and found some 50 armed men awaiting him, upon his arrival. Search was then made of the cornfield, but the man was not found.

ESKIMO WOMAN IS ACQUITTED

Freed When She Tells Of Tragic Murder On Lonely Island.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—How a little Eskimo woman fought to the death with her demented husband on a lonely Labrador island to save herself and her two children from being killed by him was tragically related in Supreme court Thursday.

The wife, Julienne Tutin, was acquitted.

Julienne and her husband and their children were the sole inhabitants of the island. She told how, when put to the supreme test, with her own body broken and bruised by blows from her husband's gun during the struggle, she did not hesitate to stab him time after time with a sheath knife, and then riddle his body with bullets from one of his rifles.

Her eyes welling with tears, Julienne, through a Moravian missionary, acting as interpreter, told the court how her husband, Ephram came home on the evening of June 11 and said he was going to kill the baby. Stricken with fear she spent hours pleading with him to wait until morning, hoping that meantime someone would call at the island or that she might be able to attract the attention of persons on the mainland.

Asks for Rifle.

Her strategy succeeded for a time, but during the night Ephram rushed out of doors with his two rifles and started firing them. He told Julienne he would shoot the dogs so that they might not eat the bodies of the children when he killed them. Julienne asked that she be given a rifle to join the killing of the dogs, and in this way got possession of one of the guns.

A moment later, she testified, Ephram beat her down with his rifle. With her head crushed, an arm broken and bleeding from numerous wounds, Julienne retreated into the one-room shack. Seeing a Bible given her by a missionary, she sought to stop her husband by calling attention to what he had been taught from it.

Again she was beaten down, and when it seemed her husband was ready to kill their infant, after Nathan, their 11 year old boy, had fainted from terror, she grasped a sheath knife and plunged it again and again into her husband's breast. Then she seized a rifle and sent its contents into his body.

When her strength returned Julienne made the body secure with a seal thong, dragged it out of doors and signalled for aid from the mainland.

Turkestan Abolishes Polygamy On Basis Evidence at Trial

POLTORATSK, (formerly Askabad) Turkestan, Oct. 9.—(AP)—As a sequel to the murder of the young communist worker, Anna Dechkan, for which five of her relatives were executed Thursday, the Turkestan government Friday issued a decree prohibiting polygamy, the exploitation of women and the sale of infant girls in marriage.

These were the things against which Anna fought, and which aroused her relatives to warn her and finally to descend in a body and stab her to death in the presence of her husband and infant child. Fifty-two wounds were inflicted on her body.

Under yesterday's decree the marriageable age for girls is fixed at 16 and for boys at 18. The professional marriage brokers, who thrived on the sale of women, are suppressed. It will no longer be necessary for a man to pay a price for a wife, and those forced to do so may later recover in court.

It was revealed at the Dechkan trial that young girls were often sold into marriage with out their consent; frequently becoming the third or fourth wife of an old man they had never seen before. Also that parents who sold their immature daughters into marriage encouraged divorce so the girls could be sold a second time. Some girls were sold as many as five times.

The trial further brought out that under the peculiar conceptions of honor among Turcomans, it was considered a disgrace and an insult to the husband if a divorce were secured on the wife's initiative.

TEARS FOR MR. DAUGHERTY

Max Steuer, the brilliant New York lawyer, in presenting a plea for Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty on trial with Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government of their services in permitting release of $7,000,000 of impounded assets of the American Metals company, sought to enlist sympathy for his client.

Daugherty, Steuer told the jury has been the victim of persecution.

In a fit of anger the former attorney general burned ledger sheets recording bank accounts of Daugherty and his brother, and of Jess W. Smith, who served as Daugherty's political handyman. "It was a foolish thing, Mr. Steuer said, "an indescribably foolish thing This lonesome, broken old man was followed by barking dogs, the yelpers who wanted to peek at the records of the political fund he had raised and managed. He wanted to flout them, and with no thought in his mind of the American Metals case he threw the papers into the fire."

Mr. Daugherty may be innocent of the charge against him or he may be guilty. That is a question for judicial determination. But why should his own counsel paint him in such a childish light? Mr. Daugherty was never recognized as a great lawyer He owed his elevation to the important post of attorney general of the United States to a long political friendship with Warren Harding. He managed Harding's successful campaign for the republican nomination for president at the Chicago convention in 1920 He came from the old political school, which knew its stuff, believe us. He was a shrewd, calculating practical politician, who had managed to make himself somewhat a figure in Ohio which is saying a great deal. There are few states so completely under the domination of boss and gang politics.

Now we are told that Mr. Daugherty was a guileless boy, who in a fit of temper and an outraged sense of injustice, destroyed the very evidence which would have silenced all of his detractors It would seem that an honest man, smarting under the sting of unjust accusation, would have been the first to have confronted his enemies with the indisputable proof of his integrity. Those records would have settled the issue, so far as Mr Daugherty was concerned. But the former attorney general did not do that. In a silly moment he burned them.

Mr. Steuer does not have a very high regard for the intelligence of his client. He asks us to believe the former attorney general of the United States, and the former intimate of Warren Harding had the balance and sense of a public school pupil

* * *

Irrespective of the outcome of this case involving Daugherty, the American people have already passed judgment upon him.

He may not have been guilty of criminal wrongdoing.

He may have been an inocent pawn in a great game.

He may have been in the same unfortunate position of the man he made a president of the greatest nation on earth—surrounded by false friends who imposed upon him But Harry M. Daugherty was unfit to be attorney general of the United States. He had none of the legal qualifications for that office His appointment was a mistake arising from the very human trait which led Warren Harding into trouble so many times and finally broke his great heart. The mistake originating with Harding was transferred to Calvin Coolidge, after the latter became president upon Mr| Harding's death, because Mr. Coolidge did nothing to clean up the stench in the department of justice until an aroused public sentiment forced Daugherty from office.

Those are the indelible, lasting impressions which the American people have of Harry M. Daugherty.

They cover a period of history which most of us would like to forget.

This trial which has been going on now for several weeks—it was necessary if justice is to prevail in this country—nevertheless has been a weary ordeal for the American people. They have a passionate desire to think kindly of their public men. They want to forget those who fail them either through incompetence or unworthiness

That day will be welcome when the mills of justice have disposed of Daugherty, Fall, Sinclair, Doheny and others who figured in this dark period of American history.

THE "RELIEF" IDEA SPREADING.

Now it is the bankers over in Iowa who want the federal government to come to their aid. The farmers there, it seems, are in pretty good shape after raising a big corn crop and marketing their live stock on a fair margin of profit. But the banks are still suffering from the consequences of their own poor judgment in loaning too much money to finance land speculation. So it is proposed that Uncle Sam shall come to their aid.

Congressman Dickinson, one of the principal exponents of "farm relief" in the last congress, announces that he will introduce a bill at the coming session to have the United States government advance money to the hard-pressed bankers of his state on the security of real estate which they have had to take over because their own borrowers could not keep up their payments on the mortgages held by the banks.

Just what the congressman has in mind is indicated by these paragraphs in the news report from Des Moines:

"Revival of the war finance corporation plan as an aid to midwestern banks that have become heavily burdened with real estate holdings during the agricultural depression is to be proposed in the coming session of Congress by Representative L J. Dickinsen of the tenth Iowa district.

"The new proposal would permit a federal corporation to loan to banks that are compelled to take over real estate an amount not in excess of 80 per cent of the value of such holdings. The loans would be permitted to run five years."

The foregoing is a confession, in the first place, that many Iowa bankers have got in beyond their depth. In the second place, it is a frank appeal to the United States government to throw them a life preserver. The two things, taken together, show pretty plainly where the trouble lies in Iowa. It is not "farm relief" that is needed there so much as "banker relief". And the chief apostle of the former promptly tenders his services in pushing the latter project.

Can anyone give a good reason why the national government should play "angel" to reckless bankers by loaning them up to 80 per cent on real estate that has proven unprofitable to its owners and been surrendered by them, and which the banks themselves cannot sell for enough to realize the equities they hold in it?

Do careful bankers loan on any such basis? Do life insurance companies? Do trust and investment companies or joint stock land banks, or federal land banks?

Certainly not The practice followed by these agencies is to have a piece of property appraised at a conservative figure as the first step in making a loan. When its fair market value is determined, 35 or 40 per cent of that amount is the utmost that the borrower can expect to get on it. This is considered a reasonable precaution to profect the lending concern against any future shrinkage in value.

Yet the United States government is to be asked to accept real estate at an inflated valuation to the amount of 80 per cent, and wait 5 years for repayment.

This shows the logical development of the "relief" idea. First it was to help the farmers; now it is the Iowa bankers; next it may be the hotelkeepers in Miami, and the cotton plantation owners of the south; sooner or later the coal mine owners will be demanding similar assistance; the street car companies, the ship owners, and perhaps some of the newspapers, grocers, and clothing merchants will feel that they have a right to be taken care of; and so on ad infinitum.

The politicians are running true to form in their advocacy of governmental pap for unsound business What matters it to them if their schemes should bankrupt the nation al treasury, provided they get re-elected to office?

THE GRADE CROSSING AGAIN.

Snuffing out the lives of an entire family of four in a railroad crossing accident at Chapman, Neb., Thursday night should serve as a grim reminder that the season of year is approaching when the grade crossing peril is greater

Notwithstanding the efforts of railroad companies, the press and various other agencies to carry the gospel of safety to thousands of automobile drivers in this and other states, the death toll has been mounting steadily each year. In 1925 nearly 20,000 Americans lost their lives in automobile accidents. The year before it was nearly 2,000 less The year before that it was smaller. In every instance grade crossing accidents figured very prominently in the list

The automobile, with the ever increasing popularity of the closed car, is coming into year-around use more and more. The fall and winter months present more hazards in driving because open touring cars, made secure against cold and chill by special tops and curtains, naturally obstruct the view of the driver to some extent. It is then that extra precaution is needed. There is one safe way in which to avoid automobile accidents. That is to stop before attempting to cross railroad tracks. If a railroad train is approaching wait until it has passed It may take a little more time but it is safer.

There is no evidence to reveal whether carelessness factored in the distressing tragedy at Chapman. But in most accidents, care and prudence would have averted them. One cannot be too careful at railroad crossings.

Boy Scouts

TRUE STORY NUMBER TWO.

Boy Scouts are always ready to assist. They were called upon to a greater extent last year than ever before.

Through their annual fire inspection, many fires of greater or less damage were prevented. They visited the homes, found the hazard, and notified the owner. If that proved unavailing after two weeks, they sent word to the fire department.

Scouts served at the cemetery Memorial day. They cleared and patrolled the streets for the Armistice day parade. Seventy-five Scouts worked afternoon and evening July 4 at the American Legion celebration at the fair grounds.

The Scouts were in charge of the Knot Hole club, and ushered at the foot ball games. The university permitte dthem to see the Notre-Dame-Nebraska game, as a reward for their work. At that time, they were in charge of the ushering at the ends of the stadium.

Three hundred seventy Lincoln men are actively interested in Scouting; as members of the executive board, troop committeemen, scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, commissioner, and expert examiner.

Through 42 troops. 830 boys are enabled to know and to follow the ideals of the Boy Scouts.

Pass Resolution Opposing Sunday Shows In Lincoln

The Tabernacle Christian church went on record Friday night at its annual meeting in opposition to permitting the opening of theaters in Lincoln on Sunday.

The resolution which was adopted declared that every community should protect every person's right to one day of rest in seven, and that it should therefore prohibit all unnecessary gainful employment on Sunday.

Lincoln's greatest asset is its unusually high moral tone and enforced Sunday observance, the resolution contended.

The adoption of the resolution provided for the appointment of a committee to "get out the vote" of the congregation at the coming election. The committee will be composed of five men and five women

Receivers' Notes Being Redeemed

Drafts on the 898 state banks of Nebraska, amounting to 72.47 per cent of their respective balances held for the state guaranty fund, were being mailed out Saturday from the office of State Trade and Commerce Secretary Griggs When their remittances come back, checks will be issued to pay off $1,188,000 of receivers' certificates against failed banks, out of about $2,500,000 now outstanding.

The cleanup now being made cancels all certificates that would fall due up to April 1, 1927 When these are retired, the guaranty fund will still have a balance of $600,000 on hand, with $1,300,000 of certificates still due, most of them having almost a year still to run.

The guaranty fund will be augmented January 1 by a regular semi-annual assessment of $140,000 and in March or April by another special assessment of $700,000. There will also be a considerable amount of many turned back to it from the proceeds of assets belonging to failed banks whose depositors have heretofore been paid.

STEAMERS COLLIDE.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Great excitement was caused today among several hundred passengers aboard the outward-bound liners Caledonia and Aurania when the two steamers collided at Greenock in a heavy sea and gale. The only damage inflicted was above the water lines and the vessels were able to proceed

FORTUNE AWAITS RUNAWAY.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A $20,000 inheritance is waiting here for Miss Helen Ondeck, who ran away from home in September, 1923, because she resented her mother's strict surveillance over her. When the mother died she left her entire estate to the runaway girl. Two other children were ignored. Police have been asked to seek the girl.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

PHILADELPHIA,—(AP)—Accounts of the World war in American school histories are "absurd, silly and ridiculous," Col Thomas J Dixon, chaplain of the First division, American expeditionary forces told members of the Military Order of the World War Friday. "I read and studied fifty-two volumes of history," he said, "and found that from elementary history to college editions, they were hopelessly inadequate and inaccurate. "There were flagrant errors of omission and commission. The whole et of alleged histories put me in mind of a collection of fair tales."

BERLIN,—(AP)—The Prussian state council Friday adopted the government's indemnity and settlement compromise bill dealing with the property of the Hohenzollerns, the former ruling family in Germany. The socialists and communists voted against the measure, one clause of which is looked on in some quarters as making it possible for the former emperor to return to the country. The Prussian state council is a sort of advisory body which considers measures before they are placed before the diet.

WASHINGTON,—(AP)—The Sherman anti-trust case from Chicago, charging criminal conspiracy there between mill work manufacturers building contractors and union carpenters to restrain interstate commerce in non-union made doors, sash and other trim, was argued orally Friday in the Supreme court Wm. J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney general, contended the evidence showed an unlawful conspiracy under which manufacturers were to monopolize the field by exclusion of non-union competition from mills.

NEW YORK,—(AP)—A French chef who once cooked for emperors arrived Friday in the steamship Berengaria to introduce in this country a vegetable cooking mixture containing 7 per cent alcohol, if prohibition officers will give permission. He is August Escoffier, now 80 years old, who was chief chef to the Emperor Napoleon III, and who in 1913 prepared a dinner for the former kaiser of Germany which won the latter's praise. On that occasion the kaiser was abroad the Berengaria, then a German ship known as the Imperator. Escoffier's only son was killed eighteen months later in the fighting between German and French troops.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children announced Friday it had dropped its investigation of the activities of Uldine Maybelle Utley, 14-year-old girl evangelist, who it had been charged was being unlawfully exploited under the law forbidding the employment of minors in gainful occupations She has been preaching at the Calvary Baptist church. No law was being violated in the opinion of the society, which had been requested to investigate the case by the American association for the advancement of Atheism.

safe to tell stories on kids and convicts, because they can't get back at you. At least, that's what the after-dinner boys think. I'm kinda particular myself, though, because the kid may grow up, and it's as sure as shootin' that the convict will get out just as soon as the parole board can call a special meeting to listen to his tale of woe.

This one will be on the kid, and I won't tell his name so's he won't grow up and pull my whiskers when I'm old.

The boy was bawling like sin, outside a farm house in Iowa, and some kind-hearted folks in an automobile stopped and started to try to give him a little sympathy.

"What's the matter? Can we do anything for you?"

"No, you can't help it, and neither can anybody now. The kittens is drowned, all six of 'em!"

"Too bad, too bad How did it happen?"

"Dad drowned 'em in the river."

"Well, well, that's sad"

"Sad? It's rotten mean, I claim! He drowned 'em this morning before I was up, after promisin' me last night that I could toss three of 'em in the river myself and watch him throw the others in! My dad ain't got no sense of honor at all!"

To Seek Reduction In Rates On Salt

C A. Ross, rate clerk for the state railway commission, leaves Sunday for Chicago to appear before the interstate commerce commission on behalf of Nebraska shippers in connection with the rate on salt from Kansas fields to Nebraska points. He will seek to obtain a reduction in the present rates to points west of a line running from Wymore, Beatrice, Lincoln and Valley.

As an example, the present rate to Crete is 18 5 cents per 100 pounds while Dorchester, 9 miles west has a rate of 26.5 cents. Grand Island has a 26.5 cents rate; to Abbott, a point 8 miles west, the rate is 33 cents, and to St. Libory, 11 miles north, it is 38.5 cents.

The commission will suggest the the Crete rate be made 17.5 cents, Dorchester 18.5 cents, Grand Island 19 cents, Abbott 19.5 cents and St. Libory 19.5 cents.

Pale Hands

Leila Marsh, who has always been accustomed to idleness, is left without money. She finds her rich friends are of the fair-weather variety and because she has never been taught to do anything is forced to take a position as lady's maid with Mona Kingsley, a very rich woman. In the family are Richard, Mona's husband, and Barry, the son. Barry persecutes Leila because of her beauty, and when Richard discovers this, he warns his son. Later he discovers that Leila is trying to fit herself for a better position, and offers to help her, but he learns that his feeling for her is not platonic. In the meantime Mona is amusing herself with a young bachelor, Ronald Cameron. Leila overhears a conversation between them in which Ronald begs Mona to go away with him. Later that night Barry seeks Leila out and tries to present her with a handsome gift. She tells him he is repulsive to her, and threatens to tell his father if he does not stop annoying her.

CHAPTER XXVII.
A Blow to Mona.

During the first few days after Leila had scornfully refused to accept his gift, Barry plunged into dissipation. He drank more than he ever had before. He and another man took some girls from the Frivolities chorus out to supper after the theatre and Barry presented his partner with the diamond pendant he had bought for Leila. She squealed with delight when he clasped it about her throat and would have thrown her arms around his neck if he hadn't laughingly drawn back. For some reason he didn't want that kind of thing; and in spite of the alcohol that he had taken and the fact that his head was spinning, he kept thinking of Leila's scornful words and her manner of refusing his gift.

For all his dissipation he could not seem to get her out of his thoughts. He couldn't remember feeling this way about any other girl that he had met. Perhaps it was because they were all so ready and willing to accept his attentions, but at any rate, one morning he woke up somewhere around noon with a disgust for himself that he had never before experienced.

He took a cold shower and had breakfast, and then because he felt wretched and had nothing in particular to do, he went to his mother's sitting room and knocked at the door.

Mona was still in bed and called to him from the other room. She looked up with a smile as he strolled in and sat down beside her. Barry was, as usual, perfectly groomed, but in the clear morning light his skin looked sallow and his eyes heavy. His mother exclaimed when she saw him.

"Barry, you've been dissipating too much. You look frightfully."

"I don't look any worse than I feel."

"You'd better get out of town for a time and pull yourself together. Perhaps you ought to see a doctor."

Barry shrugge dimpatiently . I don't need a doctor. I need something to keep me from being bored. I'm tired of doing nothing. What would you say if I went to work?"

Leila had come into the room with Mona's breakfast tray and was arranging it on the small adjustable table. Until her appearance Barry had had no intention of expressing a desire to go to work, but it occurred to him that he might impress her if he showed some ambition and he had spoken on impulse.

"I think it would be a very good thing for you," observed Mona "I told your father that some day you'd get tired of doing nothing."

"I suppose you never get tired of it." Barry said after a moment. "Don't you ever get bored?"

Mona arched her eyebrows daintily, and turned wide blue eyes upon her son.

"What's got into you this morning, Barry, you don't usually talk like this Of course I don't get tired of it. But then I'm a woman which makes it very different Men are never satisfied for long without work of some kind"

Barry's eyes were following Leila as she moved about the room, and Mona's lids narrowed at the corners For the first time a feeling of alarm leaped up in her. Until now she hadn't thought seriously about Barry's infatuation for Leila. She was only a servant, and although she was a remarkably pretty one, Barry wasn't likely to make a fool of himself over her.

But this morning he seemed so different, so unlike himself. Was it possible that he had any serious feeling for this girl. And Leila, the sly little minx. Wouldn't it be just like her to repulse Barry if he tried to flirt with her in the hope that she might ultimately lure him into a proposal of marriage?

Mona put down her cup and saucer suddenly. Her voice when she spoke was sharp.

"Will you leave the room for a while, Leila? I want to speak to my son alone."

ACE HUDKINS DRAWS $1 FINE

Found Technically Guilty Assault and Battery; To Appeal.

Young Lady Testifies Lincoln Boxer Slapped Her On Head.

Ace Hudkins, contender for the lightweight boxing championship, was found "technically guilty" in municipal court Saturday morning of assault and battery on a young woman. He was fined $1 and costs. His attorney served notice of appeal, $500 bond being furnished.

Ora Fuller, the young lady complainant, testified that the boxer slapped her on the head after she refused to pardon him for certain remarks which she declared he addressed to her at a public dance a week ago.

"He put his face up to mine and said four times, 'will you pardon me?' Miss Fuller testified "I said No. I won't pardon you,' and then he struck me with his open hand, knocking me against a row of chairs. After that he called me names and spit on me."

Marvin Nelson, 536 North Twenty-fourth, Miss Fuller's escort at the dance, substantiated her story, and also testified that "Ace" struck him on the jaw shortly before Miss Fuller's sister, Laura Clome, declared she was a witness, and her testimony was about the same as the complainant's.

"Ace," however, went on the stand and denied striking either Mr. Nelson or Miss Fuller. He said there had been no altercation except that he had told Nelson, "I don't like you, 'Murph.'"

Dean Hanig, 1549 R street, also testified that there were no blows struck. Sid Socklyn, Harry Dane, and Ray Newstrom, 2958 Dudley, also testified for the defense. Pauline Loschiavo, 305 South Eleventh, was with Hudkins at the dance, she testified, and heard no slurring remarks or saw no blows struck at any time.

After brief statements by Farley Young, assistant county attorney, and John Ledwith, attorney for Hudkins, Judge Chappell said:

"Technically, I suppose I must find the defendant guilty. But this case does not smack of what I would like to have it."

FLOODED CITY SPURNS RELIEF

New Rise In River at Beardstown, But Citizens Refuse Aid.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—A new rise in the Illinois river deepened last night the water which has made Beardstown a bedraggled Venice, but the citizens spurned aid of relief agencies and told the world, from a city hall surrounded by the flood, that they would pay the cost of rehabilitation out of their own pockets.

The river which receded Thursday after making an island of the city, went up again yesterday to twenty-five and a half feet, only four inches short of Thursday's high mark.

But representatives of the city, meeting with Red Cross and Salvation Army emissaries, vetoed proposals for an appeal for aid which the Red Cross offered to sponsor and voted to raise within the city of Beardstown ample funds to care for the homeless and the hungry.

Oklahoma Levee Breaks.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—One hundred fifty families were homeless last night, 4,000 acres of valuable corn and cotton crops ruined and nearly sixty-five square miles of land flooded as the result of the breaking of a levee on the flood swollen Verdigris river late yesterday thirteen miles east of Broken Arrow, Okla.

A wall of water four feet high swept down on the affected area and several families were unable to make their escape, being forced to the tops of houses and trees

No deaths have been reported, however.

TAX PAYER ASKS FOR INJUNCTION

Would Forbid Beatrice Commissioners Buying Electric Plants.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 9.—William Atwater, as a tax payer of this city, brought action in the District court this morning, asking for a restraining order to prevent the city commission from taking any further action in the purchase of the properties of the Nebraska Gas and Electric Co., and the Gage County Electric Co., until the matter can be heard in court.

The filing of the suit is the outgrowth of the announcement by the council of the proposed purchase of the utilities companies earlier in the week, and in case they refused, to take over the properties by condemnation proceedings.

Nearly a million dollars is represented in the deal.

Briefly Told News From The Wires

NEW YORK — (AP) — John M. Holzworth returning from northern British Columbia and Alaska, where he bagged twelve mountain sheep, caribou and Alaskan sheep for the United States biological survey and the national museum in Washington, Friday told of penetrating regions never before explored. He found a nomadic Indian tribe living in primitive fashion by hunting and fishing but with some of the Indian women wearing high heeled shoes and silk stockings which their men had obtained at trading posts in exchange for furs.

BUCHAREST— (AP)—George Cretzianu, new Rumanian minister to the United States, left Friday for Paris with his daughter. He planned to arrive in New York to receive Queen Marie during her forthcoming visit to the United States.

LONDON —(AP)— Young Prince Nicholas of Rumania, who arrived here Thursday night from Paris, was busy Friday under the hand of his tailor and it is safe to say that when he lands in the United States with his mother, Queen Marie, he will be an exponent of Bond street's latest styles. The Prince visited many London shops to equip himself for the voyage and he will do a little more shopping today before returning to Paris. He came to London alone and stayed at one of the smaller hotels in the west end. He took a plain single room and democratically mixed with other guests at meal time.

CHICAGO— (AP) —Fletcher Andrews, who shot and killed Ed H. Parr, boardinghouseman, a month ago under the delusion of persecution, was sentenced Friday to a state insane asylum. Parr and a girl companion were walking home from a north side theater when Andrews who never had seen either before, suddenly fired. Physicians found that Andrews was mentally deranged. Parr's death revealed that the girl who was with him, and who had represented herself as his wife, was not married to him, and that Parr's real wife lived in Minneapolis.

BRUSSELS— (AP)—Lessir Friday quoted Princess Astrid of Sweden as having decided to become a Roman Catholic. The papers say that the princess already has been initiated into her new faith but that the ceremony of conversion has not yet occurred. It is understood that the ceremony will take place in Belgium before the princess is married to Prince Leopold, Belgian crown prince.

WASHINGTON— (AP)— A new bid to be known as the Farmers Federated Fertilizer corporations offer" for leasing the power properties at Muscle Shoals is expected by C. Bascom Slemp, of Virginia, to be submitted to congress this winter. The new offer, Mr. Slemp said Friday will be for a fifty year lease and will be put forth by a group of New York engineers and financiers under an arrangement for public participation.

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—(AP)— A truck loaded with 500 gallons of gasoline exploded here Friday when it was struck by a northbound Chicago & Northwestern passenger train, and ten families in an apartment house a hundred feet away were driven to the street by the flames. Flames leaped fifty feet into the air at the collision, severing a telephone wire leading to Chicago.

CHICAGO.—(AP)—The "farmers' only interest in the tax amendment is to see that taxes are levied on the basis of ability to pay," declared Earl G. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, Friday, at a meeting of the county farm bureau presidents and other officers here. Smith said that more than 85 per cent of the taxes are paid by farm and city real estate, although it constitutes less than 40 per cent of the state's wealth.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)— The financing of Florida property owners those whose ordinary borrowing margins were wiped out in the hurricane is imperatively necessary, Frank A. Chase, Kansas City, managing trustee of the American Savings Building and Loan Institute, declared here Friday upon returning from a study of the financial problem created by the recent disaster. The thousands of families who were "economically submerged," he said, "are proper subjects of philanthropic charitable rehabilitation and it will take all of $5,000,000."

BERLIN.—(AP)—The German-Polish trade treaty negotiations, going on for more than a year, have struck a new snag in the squabble over Germany's request for the return of the Chorzov fertilizer works in Upper Silicia, with which President Moscicki of Poland is connected. By decision of the Hague arbitration tribunal last May the Chorzov works are returnable to Germany and she had tried repeatedly to press the Polish government to discuss transfer terms.

BAD MERGENTHEIM, Germany, —(AP)—President von Hindenburg once again resumed his former military calling when he recently appeared in the uniform of commander-in-chief at the fall maneuvers of the Fifth and Seventh divisions.

IN DAYS OF OUR FOREFATHERS

Women Prepared Their Own Medicines

The wise pioneer women learned to gather, in woods and fields, the remedies the Indians used. From the rafters of colonial houses, hung great bunches of dried roots and herbs. From these, in times of sickness, the busy mother brewed simple and powerful remedies.

From roots and herbs, Lydia E. Pinkham, a descendant of these sturdy pioneers, made her Vegetable Compound. The beneficial effects of this dependable medicine are vouched for by hundreds of women who tell of returning health and energy.

Mrs. Wm. Kraft of 2838 Vinewood Ave., Detroit, Mich., saw a Pinkham advertisement in the "News" one day and made up her mind that she would give the Compound a trial. At that time she was very weak. "After the first bottle," she writes, "I began to feel better and like a new woman after taking six bottles. I recommend it to others and always keep a bottle in the house."

If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you?

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.

By the Associated Press.

Bradstreet's today said:

"Trade is still fair to good, but weather conditions, rains and floods in the west and southwest, and the decline in cotton to the lowest price since 1921, have exercised a retarding effect alike on harvesting and sale of the crops involved and on purchases of merchandise in the areas affected. In addition, plowing for and planting of wheat has been delayed in several states of the winter wheat belt. Effects of these conditions are registered in September bank clearing totals in the northwest, parts of the central west and many cities of the south, in which latter group effects of the coast storm and slow collections due to many suspensions of country banks in July are also visible.

"These features, however, while tending to retard, have not checked the onward progress of fall wholesale trade, which has felt stimulating effects of fall festivals and state fairs and the quickening effect of steady progress of industry and the reported favorable condition of employment."

Weekly bank clearings, $10,393,573,-600.

MARKETS DELAYED.

Receipt of some markets was delayed Saturday, due to the crush of world series baseball news on the wires.

STOCK MARKETS.

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.

Stock prices declined to a slightly lower range of values in an irregular and featureless short session of the of the stock market today. Trading was confined to a few of the speculative leaders, the absence of outside interest being due in part to the proximity of the holiday on Tuesday and the continued unsettlement of the American cotton situation.

Though government agencies and the bankers of the nation have pledged their full co-operation in preventing a dumping of cotton on the market at ruinous prices there was considerable selling pressure on cotton futures, particularly from the southern points, and cotton was therefore unable to rally.

The downward movement of stock prices gained momentum in the second hour, the widest declines being in the high-priced industrial and specialty stocks. Coca Cola was under pressure and declined to 148 for a 6 point loss. Steel common and General Motors, recognized leaders in the last two important bull movements, sold $92, more than two points.

The reactionary trand in U. S. Steel was due to market disappointment over Judge Gary's failure to suggest any prospect of a special dividend for the stockholders within a reasonable period.

This weakness encouraged liberal selling of other industrial stocks, like American Can, Baldwin, Woolworth and Dupont by the professional bears, as the result of which numerous 2 to 4 point losses were recorded. Stocks were more easily dislodged in the second hour, particularly those which led the rally on Thursday and Friday.

A slight rally by the standard and independent oil stocks followed the reports of an obvious decline in crude oil production and the continuance of firm prices for gasoline and other oil products. The oils were inactive rather than reactionary during the heavy selling movement in the second hour and prices held steady. The rails were unusually inactive, stocks in this group being unable to follow up their early advances into slightly higher price territory.

Feeble rallies in the industrial and specialty stocks resulted in the recovery of some of the lost ground, but the market was generally reactionary and unsteady at the close, with U. S. Steel down 3 points, General motors down 3, Chesapeake & Ohio down 4, Coca Cola down 5½ and representative market leaders down a point or less.

The listed bond market was dull and slightly reactionary in the short session today, with a slightly lower range of prices in the principal groups of bonds, including the foreign and domestic government bonds and the convertible rails and industrials.

The secondary Liberty 4¼ per cents, the most active of the war bonds, sold up fractionally at 100.20, the third 4¼s at 101.4 and the treasury 4¼s at 107.28. City of Cologne, Germany, 6½s were fairly active at 96⅞ and Japanese 6½s at 98.

Delaware and Hudson convertible 5 per cent bonds declined about 2 points to 113½ in a small volume of trading. Frisco income 6s and Seaboard Air Line adjustments sold at a slight advance. Steel and sugar bonds were steady, while copper bonds were reactionary, with Chile Copper 6s at 105¼, down ¾.

Railroad stocks lew a moderate rally in prices at the opening of the market today. Missouri Pacific common sold up 1⅞ at 49½, Southern Railway gained ¾ at 119¾; Union Pacific was up ½ at 161½, Atchison and Atlanelc Coast Line fractionally higher. The industrials were irregular, with narrow price changes U. S. Steel declined ⅜ at 146; Pullman was up ¾ at 179¾; Anaconda Copper up ¾ at 47⅞, General Motors up ½ at 157, Montgomery Ward up ¾ at 67½; Tobacco products up at 110¼. Oil stocks were firm, with Standard Oils in the lead.

Stock sales on the floor of the New York stock exchange today totaled 564,-000 share, bonds $4,776,000.

Stock sales for the week totaled 1,083,-000 shares; bonds $46,850,000.

CATTLE—Receipts, 100. Not enough cattle were offered today to test values and the market was nominally steady at week's big decline. Excepting some choice yearlings, which are possibly not over 50c to 75c lower, nearly everything in the steer and yearling line has slumped right around $1 on one of the worst markets of the year. Trade was so nearly demoralized the last half of the week that there was no really stable basis for quotations. Canners and best heavy cows broke 25c to 50c while beef cows and heifers are fully 50c lower, grass beef is off 25c to 40c and the heavier, and cheaper grades of stockers and feeders slumped around 35c though the good light cattle held about steady.

CLOSING—Cattle: Compared with a week ago: fed steers and yearlings, uneven; mostly 50c to 75c lower; choice yearlings, 25c to 50c lower; bulg for week, $9.25@11.25; medium weights, $11.75; yearlings, $12.00; she stock mostly 25c to 50c lower; bulls, steady to weak; veals, steady; heavy calves, $1.50 lower; stockers and feeders, mostly steady; bulk for week grass heifers, $6.00@7.00, grass cows, $4.25@5.25; low cutters and cutters, $3.75@4.25; medium bulls, $4.75@5.25; practical top veals, $12.00, heavy calves, $7.00@8.00; yearlings, $8.25; fleshy feeders, $8.40.

HOGS—Receipts, 2,300. Trade in all classes was on a catch as catch can basis and prices on best lights ruled steady to weak, while the packer market was draggy at mostly 25c lower levels. Bulk of sales was at $10.00@12.90, with the day's top $13.15. Prices are weak to mostly 25c to 60c for the week.

Grain Notes

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Canadian farmers, despite the recent unpropitious weather, just now are selling more wheat than at this time last fall. The volume was virtually doubled last Thursday, when deliveries of 3,500,000 bushels compared with 1,525,000 for the same date in 1925.

The National Corn Borer committee in session here to plan action, wants $3,000,000 to fight the insect invasion, which is moving toward the heart of the corn belt. The federal government will be asked for $2,500,000 and the states involved for $500,000.

There is much comment of a scarcity of ocean room that will clog North American grain at the terminals and back into the west wheat country.

The Argentine has had considerable rain and observers make optimistic reports of the wheat situation there.

Winnipeg reported that exporters are unloading their wheat because of difficulty in getting sea-going space. It was estimated that 20,000,000 bushels are new in stock at Fort Williams.

Some Winnipeg messages said there is evidence of weather damage in the Dominion's northwest in large arrivals of inferior grade wheat.

FARRELL HEAD OF REALTORS

tories in Nebraska to utilize Nebraska products as raw materials. The convention also favored the coordination of real estate interests in the state through establishment of real estate boards.

Against Price Fixing.

Mr. McKelvie spoke against the establishment of any artificial price fixing agency by the government. Such a move would not provide farm relief, he stated, because after the farmer had paid out of his pocket the increase in food used on the farm together with the loss on the export the small margin of gain would be more than wiped out by the increased production.

Instead of price fixing Mr. McKelvie advocated the establishment of cooperative marketing, the removing of artificial barriers which hamper farmers and readjustment of unjust taxation by adoption of the state income tax.

Special musical numbers were given in the morning and Martin Larsen of Central City entertained with a mock nominating speech. The convention closed at noon and in the afternoon the delegates attended the Nebraska-Missouri football game through the courtesy of the Lincoln Real Estate Board.

Holdup Driving A Stolen Auto Robs E. N. Boyd

A holdup man driving a stolen car stopped E. N. Boyd, 525 North Sixteenth, near Sixteen and M streets Friday night, thrust a revolver at him, and took Boyd's gold watch and four dollars in currency.

According to Boyd's report to police, two men stopped a car beside him as he walked north on Sixteenth between L and M shortly after midnight. One stranger asked where Belmont was and without waiting for an answer leaped from the car and confronted Boyd.

After searching Boyd, the holdup car went north to M, east to Seventeenth, and then north again. Mr. Boyd said he thought the care bore a 47-county number.

A car bearing a 37-license number, belonging to a Dr. Palmer of Holdrege, was tolen at Thirteenth and M streets late Friday night. It had not been located Saturday morning.

Boyd's description of the man tallies in part with that of one of the men who held up Albert Benson, 1829 J street, last Saturday night.

DELAY ACTION ON BAIL FOR DAVIS

Supreme Court To Wait Until Record In Case Filed.

Attorneys Want Members of Both Tribunals To Hear Appeal.

Bert M. Davis must remain in jail for another month, at least, while the record of his recent trial and convicition at McCook for the murder of his first wife by poisoning at Beaver City a year ago is being made up by the court stenographer, to be filed in Supreme court in connection with his attorney's application to have him admitted to bail pending appeal and final decision in his case.

The three lawyers representing Davis—E. J. Lambe of Beaver City, Bernard McNeny of Red Cloud, and F. M. Colfer of McCook— were at the capitol Saturday forenoon expecting to present the matter to the judges of the high bench; but after conferring with Chief Justice Morrissey and Clerk Lindsay they decided not to press their application until the bill of exceptions (testimony taken at the trial) is made up for the court's inspection.

This conclusion was reached because the question of allowing bail and the amount thereof rest within the discretion of the Supreme court, and it was indicated to the attorneys that the judges would prefer to have before them full information regarding the case before issuing an order.

The court reporter will probably not be able to furnish the record for 30 or 40 days, and in the meantime Davis will have to stay in jail. Should he then be admitted to bail, he will have freedom until the Supreme court hears and passes upon his appeal from the sentence of life imprisonment which the jury at McCook fixed as his punishment.

Want 13 to Hear Appeal.

A peculiar feature of Davi's appeal to the superior bench is a request to have all 7 members of the court and the 6 commissioners sit altogether in hearing it. This has never been done before, and it is hardly likely that the court will agree to combine all three of the regular judicial organizations—the commission working in two divisions. The state constitution provides that:

"The judges of the Supreme court, sitting without division, shall hear and determine all cases involving constitutionality of a statute and all appeals from conviction of homicide."

This is taken to mean the elected judges of the court itself, and not the commissioners working under its direction. It is not necessary even that all 7 judges participate, the only requirement being that they shall sit "without division"—that is, in one body. Under some circumstances, the court is permitted to work in two divisions by calling in district judges to assist it.

Wade Stevens of Beaver City, Furnas county attorney, and Lee Basye of the state legal department will appear in Supreme court to oppose the admission of Davis to bail when that phase of the case is heard.

E. F. Daugherty Is Elected Head State Title Men

Edward F. Daugherty, attorney of the Federal Land bank at Omaha, was elected president of the Nebraska Title association Saturday morning at the cloing session of that organization's annual convention, held at the Lincoln hotel.

Guy E. Johnson of Wahoo was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Omaha was selected as the next meeting place.

Reno D. Davis of Beatrice was awarded President Barney's silver prize cup for the best abstract drawn by one of the help in any abstracter's office. An examining committee of two abstracters and two title lawyers made the award.

A. H. Rutgers of the Southern Surety Company of Des Moines was the first speaker of the morning. His subject was "Title Insurance." Elma B. Campbell of the Midland Title Guarantee & Abstract Company of Omaha also told of his experiences with title insurance. L. R. Slonecker, examiner for the Conservative Savings & Loan association, spoke of legal and technical questions affecting titles.

About thirty persons attended the two-day convention.

At the Friday afternoon meeting, Prof. H. H. Foster of the University of Nebraska spoke on "Nebraska as a Haven for Deadbeats." The laws of this state, need amending, he asserted, so that creditors have a better chance to collect their bills.

Gus Johnsen, the secretary, J. C. Moore of Tecumseh were two other speakers at the afternoon session.

M'MULLEN HOLDS FAITH IN YOUTHS

Governor Speaks At Annual Dad's Day Luncheon At The Chamber.

The young folks of America are no worse than they were in frontier generations, Governor Adam McMullen told 150 young men of the university and their dads at a "Dad's day" luncheon at the chamber of commerce, Saturday noon, preceding the Nebraska-Missouri football game.

Governor McMullen was the principal speaker on a program which included Chancellor Avery of the university. Coach Schulte and Verne Hedge, alumni president. Judd Crocker, president of the Innocents, was toastmaster.

Governor McMullen said in part:

"It used to be said that "Everybody works but Father." This will hardly be taken literally when the 15,000 students in and around Lincoln come to pay their matriculation and other fees and make their monthly contribution for room and board. Dad may not be as ornamental as he was forty years ago, but he ranks high on pay day. And especially is he a dear when he don't insist on an itemized account when Bill or Margaret ask for a check big enough to cover "deficiencies."

"There is no more inspiring sight than witnessing throngs of young people eager and earnest in pursuit of knowledge or pleasure. They are the hope of the future. And while they may seem to slight their elders and even think Dad a back number, down deep in their consciousness mother and dad they know are their best friends whom they love and honor as they do no one else.

"No one will be prouder than dad, unless it is mother, to witness the success of their children as they grow into manhood and womanhood, not merely as money makers, but as true men and women in the best sense."

POULTRY MEN HOLD A BANQUET

Entertainment Program Closing Event Of One Day Convention.

A banquet, dance, musical program and speech by former governor S. R. McKelvie concluded the one day convention of the Nebraska Poultry, Butter and Egg association which was held Friday at the Cornhusker hotel. "At the Cross Road," was the subject of Mr. McKelvie's address.

A law in Nebraska, Mr. McKelvie said, necessitates the registration of all poultry bought from the farmer for market. On the registration card, the buyer must state where he received the chicken, how much he paid fo rit and how the former owner got it. Also, the breed, type, description and size are to be stated.

"But this law," the former governor said, "is not enforced. Very little attention is being paid to it anywhere in the state. If this record were kept, it would be impossible for the chicken thieves to sell their booty."

Mr. McKelvie offered praise to the poultry raiser and dairy man, declaring that these industries in Nebraska are fast becoming real leaders. He urged further co-operation between the poultry raisers and dealers so that more fowls may be shipped from this state to the east.

Professor Carl Steckelberg gave two violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. Steckelberg. He played "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn and "Higre Kati," by Hubay. The Ferguson light opera company also gave several numbers. E. C. Nelson presided.

Towle Speaker At Meeting Of G. O. P. Women

Max Towle, candidate for county attorney, was the principal speaker Saturday noon at a meeting of the Lincoln Woman's Republican club at the Lindell hotel.

Mr. Towle's speech was spent in answering the thrusts on the attorney's office by democratic candidates. The reason for so many cases pending in court, Mr. Towle explained, was usually in cases of non-support. After arresting the husband for non-support and jailing him for a short time, if he promises to support his wife, he is freed and the case remains pending. Dismissals, Mr. Towle said, were usually in cases of small no-fund checks.

Seventy-five women were present. These meetings are being hld weekly until the time of the November lections.

Lloyd Robinson, accompanied by his sister Madeline, sang. Mrs. E. F. Bell, chairman of the registration committee, and Mrs. A. G. Evans, membership chairman, also gave short addresses. Mrs. H. C. M. Burgess, the president, introduced each speaker.

Following the luncheon, a precinct committeemen's meeting was held.

Three Inch Rain At York; Lincoln Has Light Shower

Three inches of rain fell at York last night, according to a Burlington report. Two inches of rain fell on the line between York and Ravenna.

Other showers of which the railroad had received word follow: Dorchester, 1 inch; Sutton, one-fourth inch; Milford, 1 inch; Seward, three-fourths inch; Seward-Utica line, 1½ inches; Ravenna to Hastings, showers; Endicott, ½ inch; Wymore, 1 inch; Liberty, 2 inches; Liberty to Napier, shower; sixth, shower.

Lincoln received a quarter inch rain Friday night and Sioux City .10 of an inch, according to the reports of the weather bureau. None was recorded at Omaha, Valentine or North Platte.

Oketo, Kas., reported to the weather bureau that 1.65 inches fell there during the night.

CAUSED LOWER GASOLINE PRICE

Bryan Says Opening Of State Stations Saved People Large Sum.

(Special to The Star.)

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 9.—Charles W. Bryan, democratic candidate for governor, and Edgar Howard, candidate for congress in this district, addressed a large meeting here last night. Mr. Bryan stressed that fact that as governor he established state competition in the sale of gasoline, thereby causing a large reduction in price. He stated that if elected he could and would see that the price of gasoline was reduced to a fair basis of profit. He stated that in many places the margin of profit was eight or nine cents a gallon, which was altogether too much.

Mr. Bryan stated that his opponent upon coming into office immediately closed the state filling station and discontinued competition and that the price of gasoline immediately advanced seven cents per gallon and that as result the Nebraska car users are now forced to pay exorbitant prices for gasoline.

He said that as governor he initiated the good road gravel policy and that during his administration 470 miles of road was graveled and 372 miles graded. He said that he was pledged to reduce taxes collected: that high taxes and profiteering robbed republican and democrat alike.

Former Husker Gridder Victor In New York Ring

Munn Knocks Out Boston Scrapper In First Round

Former Nebraska Center Has Beantown Battler On the Floor for Count of Ten In Opening Stanza; Monte Main-Eventer His Next Time In the Ring.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Oct. 9. — Monte Munn, Nebraska's splashing heavyweight knocked out Archie Skinner of Boston last night in the first round with a right hook to the chin, thus scoring his tenth consecutive victory in the east, nine of them by knockout.

It was a whirlwind battle while it lasted, but Skinner, although he made a brave start, never had a chance.

Monte Roundly Cheered.

Munn was the first to enter the ring. He wore his familiar, black and white check bathrobe. He was roundly cheered when he was introduced by Joe Humphries, famous announcer. Munn's weight was 211½ and Skinner's 199½.

Skinner leaped from his corner when the bell rang and sank a hard right into Munn's stomach. They clinched. Then the easterner again rushed Munn, hitting the Nebraskan with several rights and lefts to the body.

Munn coolly stepped back and shot through an upper cut that almost tore Skinner's head off. Skinner was rocked to his heels and he almost toppled. Munn swiftly tore in, letting loose a terrific barrage of rights and lefts to the head.

Skinner Groggy.

Skinner was dazed and backed groggily around the ring, from rope to rope, with Munn setting himself to shoot across the knockout.

The easterner was so obviously whipped that he evoked sympathy of the crowd, a part of which started to boo Munn and cried "stop it."

Munn, however, drove Skinner into the latter's corner, rocked him with a left uppercut and then knocked him in a hulk to the floor with a right to the chin. Skinner was carried to his corner.

His Last Preliminary.

Dan Hickey, Munn's manager, was jubilant after the fight. He said that last night's fight was Munn's last preliminary, that next time he will face a heavyweight of highly recognized caliber in a main event.

Monte Booed In Victory.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Monte Munn, giant Nebraskan, with a wallop like a Missouri mule, had the odd experience in Madison Square Garden last night of being booed generously for knocking out his opponent, Arthur Skinner, of Boston, in the first round or after only one minute, 31 seconds of their fight.

Skinner was no match for the former Nebraska legislator, who was celebrating his tenth victorious professional ring contest. Skinner was four inches shorter, 12½ pounds lighter and apparently out of condition and generally a sorry looking spectacle as compared to Munn, who hit him with everything he had. When it was over, Monte was welcomed by a series of blatant and resounding "booes" apparently uttered because of his obviously poorly matched opponent.

Boston Boy Easy Mark.

The Bostonian started out gamely enough, tearing out of his corner and wading into Munn with both fists swinging haymakers. Munn merely scowled and went to work. He took a smash to the stomach and then laid down a fatal barrage consisting of one punch, a left clip to the jaw. Skinner was staggered and that was all. Munn weighed 211½ pounds and Skinner 199.

The Munn-Skinner match was only a preliminary for the bout between Francz Diener, German heavyweight champion, and Knute Hansen, Racine, Wisconsin, decision in which went to Diener after 10 rounds. Other results of the card:

Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, won a technical knockout over Alex Rely, Peruvian heavyweight champion, eight rounds; Jack DeMave, Hoboken, beat Young Bob Fitzsimmons, 10 rounds; Henry Lamar, Washington, knocked out Arthur Wickman, New York, in third round.

Monte On Way Up.

MONTE MUNN.

Monte bagged another jig-time glove victory last night in New York and his manager then announced that the former Nebraska Cornhusker footballer will be a main-eventer his next appearance in the ring.

BEATRICE WINS OVER TECUMSEH

Frahm, Fullback, Scores Five Touchdowns; Garrett Eleven Wins, 33-0.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Oct. 9.—Led by Harold Frahm, husky fullback, Beatrice romped over Tecumseh in the opening game of the season here yesterday afternoon, 33 to 0.

Frahm, who scales in the neighborhood of 190 pounds, was the backbone of the Beatrice team on the offense and on the defense. His plunges through the line, in which he frequently carried several Tecumseh tacklers with him, was consistently productive of substantial gains, while he swept around the ends for good yardage, possessing enough speed to cut back and negotiate a broken field.

Frahm the Whole Show.

The big Beatrice boy accounted for all of the five Beatrice touchdowns. One counter came following a scrimmage play in which he ran 80 yards across the Tecumseh goal. In this run he was afforded some neat interference on the part of his mates. He ran 25 and 30 yards for two other touchdowns and plunged across for the two additional tallies.

Fans of Lincoln and vicinity will get their first glimpse of the Beatrice plunger next Saturday when Coach Garrett's Gage county eleven meets Lincoln at the high school oval. Incidentally it will be a test for the big Beatrice lad for Friday he was working behind a line which outweighed the Tecumseh forword wall by a comfortabel margin.

Weight Took Its Toll.

Tecumseh put up a game fight throughout the contest. In the first quarter Coach Dean Higgins' Johnson county gridsters fought the invaders on even terms and in the second period held the Beatrice outfit to a lone touchdown, the score being 6-5 at half-time.

The excess poundage, however, began to take its toll in the second half and during the third period Frahm broke away for three touchdowns and the Tecumseh defense folded up for the afternoon.

Zook Sprinted 55 Yards.

Captain Zook, anchor man on the Tecumseh sprint relay team, was the main cog in the Tecumseh attack. Beatrice linemen sifted through and cut him down in most of his trials. It was Zook, however, that furnished the lone thrill for the Tecumsehans, the fleet half back breaking away for a 55-yard run in the third quarter. In this run he side-stepped and whirled through half the Beatrice team before he was finally dropped by the safety man.

CAPITAL CITY HI WINS WITH EASE

Lincoln Steps Out to 37-0 Gridiron Victory Over Hastings High.

BY LAWRENCE TYLER.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 9. — The Red and Black warriors of Lincoln high gave the Orange and Black Tigers of the Hastings high a lesson in the pigskin sport to the tune of 37 to 0 on the Hastings college gridiron Friday afternoon.

Coach Browne's athletes started the first half in business-like fashion, scoring four touchdowns and a field goal. In the second act, they scored a lone touchdown. This period was largely a see-saw up and down the field, with Lincoln holding the advantage. Hastings put up a stiff defensive battle during the whole 60 minutes of play and the Red and Black goal never was in danger.

Lincoln Line Impenetrable.

The forward wall from the capital city was impenetrable. Hastings succeeded in making only two first downs during the whole fray.

Packer was the big noise for the Lincoln squad. The red-headed flash was responsible for four of the touchdowns, as well as doing all the punting and passing. He never made less than four yards when lugging the ball, while his punts were averaging 50 yards. Kitchen was running the team in expert fashion. He has a good head on him for football strategy. Suter was turning in some good gains, several times making substantial gains, only to lose the ball on a fumble. Tindall also gave a good account of himself, as did Perry and Armstrong.

Wilson and Best.

Wilson and Best were the outstanding players for the Hastings eleven. Wilson at end was in the thick of every play and on several occasions spilled the Lincoln backs for heavy losses. Best, who is small of stature, was the fight of his team. He threw a scare in the Lincoln team toward the end of the game when he returned a punt for 20 yards. Johnson and Bushnell also were making the going tough for the Red nad Black eleven. Buckley's kicking was one of the bright spots for the Orange team.

Lincoln Scored Early.

Hastings won the toss and chose the south goal, thus getting the advantage of a strong wind. Skold kicked off for Lincoln. Hastings returned to its 30-yard line and punted on the first play. Kitchen returned to Hastings' 45-yard line. On a series of line plunges and end runs by Packer and Suter, the ball was put within scoring distance. Packer then drove for four yards and a touchdown. Kitchen place-kicked the extra point.

Hastings elected to kick off. Buckley kicked to Kitchen, who returned 30 yards to the Lincoln 34-yard line. Lincoln then drove toward the Hastings goal. "Half-Pint" Kitchen was deprived of his chance to enter the scoring column via the touchdown route. The little fellow carried the ball across, but the headlinesman ruled that Bauer was offside and Lincoln drew a five-yard penalty. Irritated over the decision, Packer smashed his way through the line and over the goal. Kitchen place-kicked the try-for-point. This ended the scoring of the first quarter.

Subs Do Their Bit.

During the second quarter Browne substituted freely and credit for the 17 points scored this period should go to the reserves. Although Packer made two touchdowns and Kitchen a field goal, the scrubs were carrying the burden of the ball-lugging. Armstrong was reeling off some good gains while Perry turned in one for 25 yards that was made on a pretty cut-back after side-stepping a bunch of Hastings tacklers. The half ended with Lincoln in possession of the ball on Hastings' 35-yard line.

Browne started his original lineup at the beginning of the second half, with the exception of Maser at Austin's guard. This period was featured by ragged playing by both teams. Hastings punted every time it got the ball and Lincoln would lose it on a fumble.

Final Marker by Suter.

The lone marker of the stanza came after Packer and Suter had reeled off gains of substantial measure, putting the ball on Hastings' 25-yard line. Suter then broke through for the remaining distance and a touchdown. Kitchen's kick was blocked. This was Lincoln's last taste of chalking up points.

Coach Browne made numerous replacements toward the end of the battle. After Lincoln had managed to keep the ball in Hastings territory, the game ended with the upholders of the Orange and Black in possession of the pigskin on their 15-yard line.

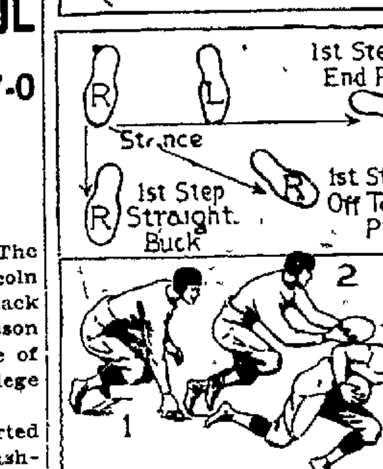
Visual Sports.

BY SOL METZGER.



Hits Low With Head Up.

When Wilson of Washington hit the line last fall he ran with his body tilted well forward, shoulders slightly higher than buttocks and head up, so he could pick the openings that were offered. Like all good plungers Wilson kept his legs well under him so he could use their full power in driving forward.

Backs practice long and assiduously in starting. Most of them line up, as shown in Fig. 1, with their feet parallel to the line of scrimmage, legs well under them and one hand forward on the ground to steady them. They are on their toes, too. The steps of a back in starting are three, as pictured in the panel at the top of the drawing, the first step being long for an end run and short and straight ahead for a line plunge. The end run demands speed, the plunge speed and power.

On a direct pass for a plunge the center tosses the ball easily and waist high, so the back can rush forward into the ball and catch it with both hands (Fig 2) without danger of fumbling or losing his speed. Then he pulls the ball into his stomach with both hands and drives ahead for the hole, head up and with his legs working like pistons. If there is no hole often his power will force one when he strikes the mass of players ahead.

A tip for players: In the plunging, run with the feet pointed straight ahead and fairly well apart so you can change direction as opportunity offers. Develop the driving ahead muscles by practicing with a harness over the shoulders and two players holding on to it.

UNI. PLACE HIGH DEFEATS TEMPLE

Junior Methodists Pile Up Football Victory By Score of 19-0.

Coach Baller's University Place eleven had little trouble in defeating the Temple high school yesterday on Johnson field by the score of 19 to 0. The young Methodists took a lead in the early part of the second period and from that time they were never in danger.

The brisk south wind gave a decided advantage to the team with the gale at its back, as it was nearly impossible to punt against it. Kicks if from 60 to 70 yards were common in the encounter. Uni. Place showed a decided superiority in all departments of the game. Its line was heavy and fast and Campbell, Van Dyke and the two Duey brothers were functioning effectively in the backfield.

Mainstays for Temple.

The work of LaFollette and G Neel was outstanding in the Temple lineup. LaFollette, the temple fullback, was backing up the line in fine style and it was his tackling that kept the Uni. Place gridsters from adding many points to their total. Correll and Breslow, made several good gains for the Teachers college eleven but their heavier opponents usually smothered their attempts.

In the Uni. Place forward wall Anderson, at tackle, Parsons at an end and Colwell at the other end played a good brand of the gridiron sport. Colwell staged the old time play of hiding out near the sidelines successfully. He took the pass and netted a gain of 40 yards for his mates.

Fumbles Balked Uni. Place.

The first quarter was more or less uneventful, the main feature being a punt by Caldwell that rolled almost 80 yards. Uni. Place was playing the better game, but frequent fumbles kept it from scoring. At the close of the quarter Campbell returned a punt forty yards before he was downed by an opponent.

McCain was substituting for H Duey at the first of the second quarter and on the first play he broke through and ran 40 yards, putting the oval on Temple's 10-yard line. Campbell took it around left end for the necessary distance and his successful try-for-point made the score 7 to 0.

Campbell Drop-kicks Goal.

After an exchange of punts, Temple fumbled and Uni Place recovered on opponents' 20-yard line. Three running attempts were unsuccessful and Campbell dropped back to send a drop-kick between the goal posts, and the score stood 10 to 0 at the half.

A 60-yard kick by Campbell put Temple on its own five-yard line soon after the half opened. A 30-yard punt did not put the Baller eleven back far enough and Campbell drop-kicked another field goal, this time from the 40-yard line. The score stood 13 to 0.

Scored On Intercepted Pass.

The remainder of the third period was marred by fumbles of both elevens. Uni. Place lost a chance to score when it fumbled on Temple's 20-yard line. The kicking of Campbell featured this period.

Soon after the final quarter had opened, Temple tried a pass from its own 20-yard line. Phipps, Uni. Place fullback, intercepted it and carried it 25 yards to the goal line. Campbell's extra-point attempt went wide and the scoring of the game ended. Uni Place finished the encounter with almost an entire second team.

DOANE TRAMPLES ON COTNER CREW

Crete Gridders Had Winning Punch; Trimmed Bulldogs On Bethany Field.

Flashing brilliant aerial tactics that netted two touchdowns and aided in the execution of two more, Coach Ward Haylett's Doane Tigers won from Cotner yesterday, 25 to 3, on the Bethany field in the Doane aggregation's first state conference game of the season.

Throughout the contest, with the possible exception of the last moments of the second and fourth quarters, the Tiger backs were going through the Cotner line with comparative ease and completing passes over the Bulldogs' secondary defense with persistency.

Phil and Paul Taylor, and Tom Kuzelka, powerful Doane backs, carried the ball down the field for the opening touchdown late in the first quarter. After Snyder had punted out of bounds on the 35-yard line, Paul Taylor drove off the right side of the Bulldogs' line for 20 yards and Kuzelka gained 10 more, placing the ball on the 5-yard line. Phil Taylor scored on a line smash.

Busy in Second Quarter.

Two touchdowns were added to Doane's total in the second quarter. Starting on their 45-yard line, the Doane backs reeled off a series of five first downs on off-tackle smashes, interspersed with a pass for a short gain and an occasional sprint around end. On a delayed pass behind the line, Phil Taylor ran the final nine yards for a score.

A pass from Parker to Paul Taylor for 30 yards gave Doane the ball on the Cotner 20-yard line when Cotner was forced to kick after the ensuing kickoff. A heave across the goal line settled in Bayer's arms for the third Doane touchdown.

Scored On Snyder's Kick.

Cotner's three points were gained in the third quarter on a dropkick from the 30-yard line by Snyder. The opportunity was presented him when Kennedy recovered a fumbled punt in the middle of the field and Coleman carried the ball closer on line plunges.

Doane's final score came shortly after the opening of the second half. On an exchange of punts, Snyder's kick rolled out of bounds on the Cotner 20-yard line and Best promptly passed to Bayer for 20 yards and a score.

Doane Player Banished.

Just before the close of the first half, Cotner worked the ball to Doane's 20-yard line when Snyder returned the kickoff 20 yards and Shuman added a like distance on an end run, followed by a 15-yard gain on a pass from Shuman to Fairbanks. The Bulldogs' scoring opportunity was spoiled when the half ended with the ball in their possession on the Doane 17-yard line.

What the officials regarded as undue belligerency resulted in the ejection of Ellis, Doane left guard, and cost the Tigers 30 yards, half the distance to the goal line and put Cotner in position to score during the fourth quarter. A pass from Shuman to Snyder and a pair of line smashes put the ball on Doane's five-yard line, but the Bulldogs were unable to muster enough drive to cover the remaining distance.

Crete Gridders Defeat Fremont

FREMONT, Neb., Oct. 9.—Crete high school kicked in with a surprise here yesterday, Coach "Pop" Klein's Saline county athletes handing Fremont high a 19-0 trimming.

The defeat by Crete came unexpectedly to Fremont fans, the Dodge county machine having walloped Omaha Central last week.

Crete resorted to aerial tactics to score two touchdowns. The third touchdown was made by Justa, Crete fullback, who plunged across the goal line.

Million Wagered On Today's Clash

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(I.N.S.)—In the estimation of Broadway betting commissioners, upward of a million dollars may be wagered on the sixth game of the world series this afternoon between the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, with the probability that $15,000,000 will change hands on the result of the series, if it goes the limit of seven games. A new record for total betting on the series seemed inevitable.

The odds established this morning for the sixth game were 9 to 10 and take your choice, with the Yanks favored for the series at slightly more than 2 to 1.

J. PLUV JINXES HUSKERS, TIGERS

Rain Clouds Were Leaking As Hour Approached For Gridiron Classic.

J. Pluvius was up to old tricks again today, jinxing the Nebraska-Missouri gridiron classic by turning on his water faucet Friday night and repeating Saturday morning. The U. S. weather forecast gave a warning of more showers and prospects at the noon hour suggested that the twenty to twenty-five thousand spectators, scheduled to trek to Nebraska's Memorial stadium, were due to take a ducking while seeing their favorite sport.

Cornhuskers and Tigers were pronounced physically fit for the combat on the gridiron. The field is covered by a deep carpet of grass and unless J. Pluvius breaks loose with a downpour during the afternoon, it seemed likely that the footing would be fairly firm and the sod in satisfactory condition.

Teams In Final Workout.

The Missouri squad of 33 players, with Head Coach Gwinn Henry in charge, staged a two-hour limbering up workout early Friday afternoon and the Cornhuskers later took possession of the field for their final preparation drill. Neither Coach Bearg of Nebraska nor Coach Henry of Missouri would predict the outcome of the battle, venturing no prophecy other than a strenuous struggle was in prospect.

"Nothing could please me more than to beat Missouri," Coach Bearg said Saturday morning. "Gwynn Henry has credit for two wins at my expense and I'd like to begin today getting even. His Emporia Teachers won from my Washburn college team several years ago, 6 to 0, and his Missouri Tigers beat Nebraska last fall, 9 to 6. I don't think Henry will deny that he had all the breaks in grabbing those two victories. Possibly we may have some of the breaks this afternoon. I hope so, anyway."

Fans Flock To Lincoln.

Despite the threatening weather, a throng numbering many thousands of football fans invaded Lincoln Friday night and Saturday morning. The main automobile highways were patronized by hundreds of cars, all headed for the capital city.

The kickoff was scheduled for 2 p. m. sharp, the starting lineups being as follows:

String of Games on Card.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9—(AP)— Two games of conference significance and as many intersectional contests were, outstanding in today's midwestern football.

Maryland was at Chicago for the second intersectional clash of the year for the Maroons, conquerors of Florida last week, and the Marines came up from Quantico to play St. Xavier at Cincinnati.

The one big conference game was at Lincoln, where Missouri, starting a drive for a third successive Missouri Valley championship, opposed Nebraska, last fall's runner-up.

Notre Dame at Minnesota.

Virtually a western conference game was provided, however, by Notre Dame's invasion of Minnesota. Rockne's school is not in the "Big Ten," but the contest was looked to as an indication of 1926 fortunes of big teams, the Hoosiers being a consistent annual stumbling block for the conference varsities which start championship play next week. The engagement was the feature of the day.

Jayhawks Tackle Badgers.

Of the other "Big Ten" teams Wisconsin was host to Kansas, Michigan was opposed by Michigan State college, Northwestern met Carlton colleges, Illinois entertained Butler, Iowa met North Dakota, Purdue was at home to Wabash, Ohio opposed Ohio Wesleyan at Columbus and Indiana's field was invaded by Kentucky.

Missouri Valley varsities, other than Missouri and Nebraska, had opponents in various midwestern teams outside the conference. Drake was on the Atlantic seaboard, engaging the Navy, and Kansas was to battle the Badgers at Wisconson.

Neligh Defeats Albion Outfit

NELIGH, Neb., Oct. 9.—The Neligh high school football team defeated Albion yesterday, 12 to 0. The Albion eleven played a defensive game throughout the four periods. Coach Delaporte sent in seven Neligh reserves in the final quarter.

Orleans Wins Easily.

ORLEANS Neb., Oct. 9.—Orleans high won a 25-5 victory over Bloomington in football yesterday afternoon.

FATE SOON WILL DECIDE SERIES

Wise Boys Figure Saturday's Fray Even Thing Twixt Cards and Yanks.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(I. N. S.)—Fate, the grim arbiter of all things mortal, will don the sombre robes of the judiciary this afternoon, view the evidence strictly on its merits and then, with the sardonic smirk of a born Mountebank, decide the probable outcome of the world series by the logical expedient of tossing a two-headed coin. For that is fate's fantastic way and its slighest favor is worth far more than a base hit in a pinch.

Before nightfall, the darling of its momentary fancy will be known to all and if it should happen to be the Yankees, the 1926 world series will have passed into the great beyond and New York will have its first world's champion in three years. If it should happen to be the St Louis Cardinals, the series will go into another tie at three-all and a seventh and final game tomorrow will be necessary.

Lesson In Self-Denial.

That would prove a source of great irritation to the club owners, but if the Cardinals win today, it simply will have to be. Life, you know, is just a lesson in self-denial and it's about time these club owners realized it.

It was not worth a bit less than 99 cents against the even dollar that the Cards wouldn't carry the situation to its ultimate limit. They had Grover Cleveland Alexander, the man who stood the Yanks on their frantic brow no later than last Sunday, primed to take another whirl at the boys this afternoon and it was ordained that, if Alex could show a 60 per cent return on his first performance, the Yanks will do well if they don't finish worse than second.

Week's Rest for Alex.

However, there happened to be an impression aboard that Alex was and is "a one-game pitcher." Just what was meant by that I cannot say, but I assume that reference was being made to one game a week. Alex was just about starting on a new week today.

The opposing pitcher probably will be Bob Shawkey, who is as elderly as Alexander, but not as good. Urban Shocker, beaten in the second game of the series, was another possibility. It really didn't seem to matter as long as anyone could guarantee that Alexander would be the man he was. If he isn't, it really won't matter, either, for the Yanks can beat any second-class man, no matter whom they pitch themselves.

Wiseheads Back the Yanks.

As for that, the bright thinkers appeared to feel that the rest of the series was just a formality after the Yanks fluked out that final St. Louis game. Natural odds of 2 to 1 were being offered today that they couldn't go wrong, but the acceptances were few, if any.

Still, New York seemed to be taking the matter with great seriousness. The usual all-night vigil at the bleacher gates was preserved with considerable skill and ability. So was the open field running of the Yankee office staff through the ranks of hopeful gents who wish to buy tickets that are non-existent.

Serenaders In Picture.

But these incidents are formalities. New York really meant to step out of character today, shed its garment of artificial ennui and become a true rotarian. It meant to beat St. Louis on the ball field and it wasn't the kind of town to let a rival know about it down in the matter of demonstrations. They were going to sing at the boys today.

In fact, the inevitable committee will be with us and it will line up before the players' dugout and fling harmony to the four winds as a toast to the noble Yanks. One song has been dedicated to Babe Ruth, another to Col. Ruppert and a third to the team in toto. Deep pathos will be the motif.

The ceremony will be deeply appreciated by the Cards. They will be so far away.

Cards Need Some Luck.

And the Cards will need every break they can get, even of the ocular and auditory breed. With Ray Blades out for the entire series and Taylor Douthit unavailable the remainder of the way, their outfielding in St. Louis Thursday was not exactly inspiring and even a great pitcher like Alexander may find that his best efforts will be wasted on the outfield air.

It was so with Bill Sherdel Thursday it may be so with Alex today. The Cards have taken the bad breaks right on the chin thus far, but the worst they got was when they lost two fine outfielders, one of them before the start of a world series and the other in the middle of it.

LARRY HERE TO SELL HIS LINKS

Owner of Lincoln Club Turns Up In Town to Look For Baseball Buyer.

Larry Arnold of Los Angeles, owner of the Lincoln franchise in the Western league, hopped into the camp of the Links Saturday morning, after seeing the world series games in St. Louis, and lost no time in going to bat with the announcement that he is anxious to get out of organized baseball, giving someone else the chance to own and direct the Links of 1927.

"My baseball interests in Lincoln are for sale," Arnold said, "and I'll accept a reasonable offer for the franchise and my holdings in the local park. I'll make the price right and the terms easy. If any Lincoln men are anxious to have home ownership of their club, now is the time to come forward with a proposition. I hope to close a deal within a few days and be on my way back to California. I've tried for three years to get a winner, but have decided that it can't be done unless a man is right on the job to give every detail his personal attention. My business in California won't permit me to concentrate on baseball, so I intend to step out and give somebody else the chance."

"Ducky" Holmes Interested.

Arnold said today he had been negotiating with "Ducky" Holmes, former owner and manager of Lincoln clubs. "Ducky," according to Arnold, has been nibbling at a purchase for several months, the negotiations getting under way during the summer. Arnold's information is that Holmes has local backing and the present Lincoln owner may go to Sioux City, where "Ducky" is now employed, to investigate Holmes' present willingness to buy.

Intimations have been wafted down from Sioux City that the Iowa town, which has a new ball park, may put in a bid for the Lincoln franchise and if the magnates of the Western were to give consent, Lincoln might find itself off the league map next year. That the same magnates would approve is questionable, according to information coming from Dale D. Gear, president of the loop.

Huskies Mix With Oregon On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—(I.N.S.)—Savory football dishes will be served to the fans of the Pacific coast today, with three conference games, among others, to be played.

Probably the most important conference game will be between the University of Southern California and Washington State at Los Angeles, with the Trojans the favorite.

Oregon and University of Washington will tangle at Portland. The Huskies, coast champions last year, are favored to win.

The California-St. Mary's game looms locally.

Stanford and the Olympic club will clash at Palo Alto. This game is considered all but in the Cardinal bag.
